The MSCI AC Asia ex-Japan Index declined by 4.8% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Taiwan and China outperformed, while the Philippines and Indonesia were among the weakest. On a sector level, Health Care and Energy gained the most, while Consumer Discretionary and Telecom Services lagged.

Key contributors to performance included Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), which added to performance as it reported an uptick in revenue and margins. TCS's business model is evolving towards higher margin 'digital transformation' consultancy services, where it has secured a number of recent deals with large clients such as Transamerica, Marks and Spencer and Rolls Royce. Kotak Mahindra Bank outperformed on robust growth in loans and net interest income. The bank is also poised to benefit from participating in the acquisition and resolution of India's stressed assets due to its conservative lending approach during the 2004/08 boom period.

On the negative side, Global Brands Group struggled to meet earnings expectations amid the ongoing disruption in the US retail sector. Retail bankruptcies led to the loss of several brand licences which impacted the group's revenue. Idea Cellular continued to fall on competitive pressures in the telecoms sector.

Over the six-month period, significant purchases included Shanghai International Airport, the hub airport for the Yangtze Delta region. Air travel penetration in China at present is still very low but has decent growth potential, supported by an increasing number of outbound tourists and surplus capacity. We also purchased Public Bank, a high quality retail bank in Malaysia with a solid franchise and sensible, conservative management.

We divested Singapore Telecom on concerns around greater competitive pressures in the telecoms industry and sold Giant Manufacturing on concerns around the level of competition in the industry. Sales may have bottomed, but capital raising by tech owners like Alibaba means that competition is likely to remain fierce.

First State Asian Growth Fund

At the mid-year mark, we remain cautious in our outlook for Asian equities. Rising US interest rates and the pressure on emerging market currencies have triggered interest rate hikes in a number of Asian markets, which could pose considerable risk for companies that have over-leveraged. Debt levels cannot continue to rise forever, but this will perhaps not become obvious until interest rates normalise. Asian companies' earnings growth estimates have begun to taper on fears of a deterioration in the global economy; the trade war between the US and China finally began, with import tariffs on US$50 billion worth of goods on both sides. Despite the gloomy forecasts, we believe there are still pockets of opportunity for the bottom-up investor. Our research is focused on identifying dominant franchises that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Many of our portfolio companies benefit from secular growth drivers which could prove to be less correlated to macro-economic cycles and relatively defensive in the event of a downturn.

The MSCI China index declined by 1.8% in US dollar terms over the 6 months to 30 June 2018, with weak performance due to the escalating trade conflict with the US. Despite ongoing negotiations, the two countries have yet to agree to a trade deal. The Chinese renminbi weakened against the US dollar, but stabilised in early July as People's Bank of China (PBoC) Governor Yi Gang reaffirmed that the Chinese currency would remain "stable at a reasonable and balanced level" and would continue to follow a managed floating exchange rate system. On the economic front, industrial activity was weaker than expected in May, with infrastructure fixed asset investment growth slowing to 8.5% year-on-year and the manufacturing PMI easing 0.4 points to 51.5. Retail sales growth also softened to 8.5% year-on-year in May, the lowest level since July 2003. Financial deleveraging continued apace, with incremental Total Social Financing in May at half the level of April, mainly due to lower non-bank financing.

Key contributors to performance included CSPC Pharmaceutical, which rallied on better than expected earnings boosted by the inclusion of its flagship NBP product on China's National Reimbursement Drug List. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption. On the negative side, AAC Technologies softened on concerns around weaker shipment expectations for the Apple iPhone in the second half of 2018 and Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business.

Significant new purchases over the period included China Overseas Grand Ocean, a property developer focused on third-tier cities in China, where property prices remain relatively low. Although there have been concerns of oversupply in the past, we expect this to moderate in due course. We also purchased a toehold position in China Overseas Property a decent operator in the emerging sector of property management in China. We expect the property management industry to continue growing as property owners demand more value-added services.

We divested Softbank on concerns around its investment strategy and sold Delta Electronics as we believe there are better opportunities elsewhere.

One of the key issues weighing on China at the moment is the potential trade war with the United States. However, the outlook for the China A-share market depends not only on the outcome of trade negotiations between the two countries, but also on the de-leveraging process in China.

First State China Growth Fund

Trade issues would have a longer-term impact on China's emerging industries and put pressure on sustainable economic growth. To counter the negative impact, there would likely be further reforms and opening measures. Reforms would be beneficial for well-run industry leaders, on hopes of better management incentives for state-owned enterprises and further consolidation of domestic industries.

Meanwhile, China's de-leveraging efforts are likely to have more of a near-term negative impact to economic growth. Companies that rely heavily on bank financing would be most affected, although those with excessive share pledges by controlling shareholders (as a way to raise funds) would also be penalised.

The above suggests a selective investment approach is needed when picking stocks. Companies that are cognizant of the risks and their responsibilities to shareholder are likely to do better than others during volatile times.

Global equity markets declined slightly in US dollar terms over the first half of 2018.

The fund outperformed its benchmark index over the period.

Tata Consultancy Services benefitted from strong results and weakness of the rupee, and Unicharm rose on margin improvement and strong sales growth across its Asian markets. Wabtec gained on operational improvements at the company.

On the negative side, DIA declined on concerns about the franchise, balance sheet and ownership structure. Henkel fell due to the impact of negative currency moves on results and as supply chain challenges continued to impact the company’s North American operations. Colgate Palmolive was weak on concerns about the long-term growth of the franchise.

Major purchases during the period included Cerner, a company which is well placed for taking costs out of the US healthcare system, and Banco Bradesco, a high-quality Brazilian bank with a strong culture and long-term stewardship.

We sold Novo Nordisk because of worries that excess profitability in the United States might pose a long-term risk to the franchise, and DIA as we are concerned by recent ownership changes which in our view reduces the quality of stewardship. We also sold Standard Bank on valuation concerns.

Valuations for high-quality companies remain full but acceptable. We prefer to back strong management teams who are focusing on sustainable development rather than descend the quality spectrum for notionally lower valuations.

The MSCI Hong Kong Index declined by 2.5% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Property stocks underperformed on concerns around rising interest rates and the new housing policies announced by the Hong Kong government. Primary residential units which remained unsold one year after completion will be subject to a vacancy tax, while private land sites have to factor in subsidised housing – which would be subject to a heftier discount of 50% (up from the current 30% discount). Market sentiment has been buffeted by trade war concerns and renminbi depreciation, although Hong Kong's trade activity has remained brisk. Total exports rose by 15.9% year-on-year in May, compared to 8.1% year-on-year in April. Exports to Asia and developed markets were healthy across the board, suggesting that the trade conflict has yet to impact trade levels.

Key contributors to performance included CSPC Pharmaceutical, which rallied on better than expected earnings boosted by the inclusion of its flagship NBP product on China's National Reimbursement Drug List. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption.

On the negative side, AAC Technologies softened on concerns around weaker shipment expectations for the Apple iPhone in the second half of 2018 and Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business.

Significant new purchases over the period included China Overseas Grand Ocean, a property developer focused on third-tier cities in China, where property prices remain relatively low. Although there have been concerns of oversupply in the past, we expect this to moderate in due course. We also purchased a toehold position in China Overseas Property a decent operator in the emerging sector of property management in China. We expect the property management industry to continue growing as property owner's demand more value-added services.

We divested MTR Corporation on full valuations and sold Aeon Credit Service Asia on concerns around its lack of growth and margin pressures due to rising interest rates.

First State Hong Kong Growth Fund

Hong Kong equities performed strongly in 2017, rising to a 10-year high as the renminbi appreciated and US trade protectionism was yet to resurface. However, market performance was driven by just a few key stocks and themes, in particular the Chinese tech giants which reported significant growth in revenue and profitability. Year-to-date, the Hong Kong market has been more volatile, due to concerns around rising interest rates as well as escalating trade tensions between the US and China. As a result, equity valuations have eased; however, we maintain our cautious outlook on markets.

The MSCI India Index declined by 7.5% in US dollar terms over the six months to 30 June 2018. News of a US$2 billion bank fraud at Punjab National Bank and the speculation around potential fraud at other banks penalised the whole sector. Meanwhile, external concerns over rising bond yields, US interest rate hikes and a potential global trade war added to heightened volatility in the equity markets. The rupee's weakening trend continued, as capital outflows and rising oil prices led to a widening trade deficit. In June, the Reserve Bank of India raised interest rates by 25bps in June – the first hike in more than four years – and increase its inflation forecast for the second half of the fiscal year.

Key contributors to performance included Tech Mahindra, which reported expanded margins, with additional tailwinds from FX weakness. Digital revenue has grown in excess of 20% and there are anecdotal signs of a recovery in the finance sector (its biggest customer segment). Kotak Mahindra Bank outperformed on robust growth in loans and net interest income. The bank is also poised to benefit from participating in the acquisition and resolution of India's stressed assets due to its conservative lending approach during the 2004/08 boom period.

On the negative side, Blue Star reported weaker than expected results, mainly due to slower activity in its Electro Mechanical projects business. GST also had an impact, as customers renegotiated their projects contracts. Bharti Airtel continued to face intense competitive pressure, as Reliance Jio released a further round of aggressive tariff.

Significant new positions over the period included Bosch (India), the market leader in fuel injection systems in India. Bosch has a dominant franchise, with more than 50% market share in most segments that it operates in. We believe there is significant growth potential from increased regulation on emission standards – the introduction of 'BS4' in 2017 led to double-digit growth in diesel and gasoline fuel injection systems; 'BS6', which is scheduled to come into effect in 2020, should grow the addressable market substantially. We also purchased Infosys, a company we had held before, but sold on concerns around the squabbling between the founders and the management. The new CEO, Salil S. Parekh, is the second outsider at the company and has the support of the ex-founders. We have been reassured by the strength of the franchise as, despite the noise around the political, the business had continued to perform well throughout. The valuation seemed reasonable, particularly on a relative basis compared to the other major Indian IT services companies.

We divested Lupin on concerns around the challenging environment in the US generics market and sold Hindustan Unilever on concerns around expensive valuations and high margins.

The team has travelled to almost all major Asian markets over the last six months. We have met more than 400 companies in this period. These meetings have informed our views about the companies we own, as well as the economies they operate in.

We met several of the fund's holdings during our visits to India. The introduction of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) is helping tax-compliant businesses gain market share from their unorganised competitors. Jyothy Laboratories' management spoke of the changes they made to their distribution network after GST was introduced. The company has used its cash flows from the fabric care business where it has dominant market share to build stronger positions in underpenetrated segments such as dishwashing, household insecticides and personal care. Management is also exploring opportunities for partnerships with global companies. Such a partnership could have a significant impact on the long-term evolution of the business.

On the other hand, we were disappointed by our recent interactions with Blue Dart Express. New competitors funded by venture capital have been burning cash to gain market share in the express logistics sector. Blue Dart has been forced to cut prices and stay out of certain markets. This has hurt the company's growth and profitability. Worryingly, these start-ups have poached members of Blue Dart's senior management. We also have concerns about the company's recent partnership with Vakrangee, a provider of retail access points to consumers in rural areas. Vakrangee has a poor reputation for corporate governance. We engaged with management about our concerns, who are re-assessing the merits of this partnership.

The portfolio remains positioned cautiously in this environment. We still have relatively high cash levels in the portfolio. This is entirely a bottom-up outcome and not a result of trying to time the market (which, in our opinion, is a futile exercise). Our conviction in the portfolio is as high as ever, with regards to the long term growth potential that it presents. We would happily own a lot more of our companies if prices were to fall – the ultimate test of our confidence in them.

The rise in global bond yields since 2016 was interrupted in the June quarter. In the US, 10-year Treasury yields had risen above 3.10% by mid-May, driven by increased interest rate hike expectations and rising oil prices. With yields breaking out of long-term trading ranges, investors suggested we could finally be about to see a significant and sustainable move higher in yields globally. Treasury yields then reversed sharply, however, closing the quarter closer to 2.80%. UK 10-year gilt yields declined 7 bps to 1.28% during the period. 10-year yields in Germany declined by a more significant 20 bps, closing the quarter at 0.30%. At 0.03%, Japanese 10-year JGB yields were little changed over the quarter.

The increase in market volatility was arguably attributable to the removal of liquidity by central banks. Investors have been able to shrug off negative news flow in recent years, safe in the knowledge that markets would be supported by global central banks' extremely accommodative policies. This sentiment is changing as policy settings are being reviewed, contributing to volatility in yields (and equity markets) as investors digest news flow.

In this context, the trigger for volatility in the June quarter was largely from a number of political events. Markets went into a tailspin in mid-May as Italy struggled to form a new government after elections in March 2018 had failed to deliver a decisive outcome. Risk appetite nosedived as it emerged that a government could form that was perceived to be more anti-European Union, or that another election could be required, which could see populist parties potentially win power in their own right. In May, the Italian bond market moved in a manner that evoked memories of the Greek debt crisis in 2011/12. The yield on benchmark 10-year BTPs soared by 100 bps during the month.

Just as markets were calming in early June escalating trade concerns began to dominate sentiment, as the US and China announced further tariffs on goods imported from one another. While it was unclear what effect these moves might have on growth, some observers suggested lower trade volumes could shave 0.5% off potential global GDP growth in coming years.

These developments overshadowed the release of economic data. It was noteworthy, however, that the Federal Reserve raised US interest rates by 0.25 percentage points in June, to a new target rate of 1.75% to 2.00%. Core PCE inflation rose to 2.0%, in line with the Federal Reserve's target. The US employment market also remained buoyant. The unemployment rate fell to 3.8% in May, the lowest level since the 1960s.

Only time will tell to what extent trade tensions affect global economic activity, particularly given a potential escalation in tensions and the possible introduction of further tariffs. For now, grandstanding by politicians and the mere suggestion of lower trade volumes have been sufficient to unnerve investors and restrict bond yields. It will take time for investors to gauge the economic impact of these moves.

First State Global Bond Fund

Following extreme concern in May, the political situation in Italy calmed somewhat in June. Italy still faces the prospect of another election in the months ahead, however, and the terms of the UK's proposed withdrawal from the European Union are still to be agreed. Sentiment in Europe therefore remains fragile. Official interest rates in the Eurozone are likely to remain at zero until mid-2019 at the earliest, several months after the end of the European Central Bank's Quantitative Easing program. Against this background, we do not expect European bond yields to rise significantly from current levels and would not be surprised to see further bouts of volatility in the months ahead. The ECB's announcement to end its Quantitative Easing program came at a time when the European economy is showing signs of weakness, prompting some observers to suggest the move was based on political motivations rather than economic indicators.

On one hand, global monetary policy is tightening. The US Federal Reserve has signalled that it remains committed to normalising interest rates and the European Central Bank has suggested it will finally withdraw its Quantitative Easing program by the end of 2018, albeit three months later than originally intended. On the other hand, persisting geopolitical uncertainties mean it is challenging to confidently call the short-term direction of bond yields in the US and other regions.

We expect volatility and dispersion of returns continue to remain high in the period ahead. In this environment, we believe that a more balanced approach to risk as well as prudent credit selection becomes increasingly important.

Early 2018 saw widespread of optimism in financial markets. Risk appetite was supported by the passing of tax reforms in the US in late 2017 and economic data that suggested inflationary forces were gaining momentum after years of disappointment. Together with rising oil prices and increased expectation of interest rate hike, led the UST 10-yr to rise above 3.10%, breaking out of long-term trading ranges and investors suggested we could finally be about to see a sustainable move in higher yields globally. However, the rise in yields since 2016 was interrupted in the June quarter. Treasury yields then reversed sharply, closing the first half of 2018 closer to 2.80%. UK and Germany 10-year bond yields declined by 12bps and 10bps, to 1.28% and 0.3% respectively. At 0.03%, Japanese 10-year JGB yields were little changed over first half of the year.

The increase in market volatility was arguably attributable to the removal of liquidity by central banks. In mid-February, VIX index spike to the highest level since mid-2015, turning investors cautious throughout most of March. Towards the end of the second quarter, LIBOR increased in the US, the 3-month TED spreads increased to their widest level since 2009 and remains at wider ranges until the end of the first half. This caused concerns in credit market and bank funding, though it appears that the move was largely technically driven. Investors have been able to shrug off negative news flow in recent years, safe in the knowledge that markets would be supported by global central banks' extremely accommodative policies. This sentiment is changing as policy settings are being reviewed, contributing to volatility in yields (and equity markets) as investors digest news flow.

The trigger for volatility in the second quarter was largely from a number of political events. Markets went into a tailspin in mid-May as Italy struggled to form a new government after elections in March 2018 had failed to deliver a decisive outcome. Just as markets were calming in early June escalating trade concerns began to dominate sentiment, US and China announced further tariffs on goods imported from one another. While it was unclear what effect these moves might have on growth, some observers suggested lower trade volumes could shave 0.5% off potential global GDP growth in coming years.

These developments overshadowed the release of economic data. It was noteworthy, however, that the Federal Reserve raised US interest rates twice by 0.25 percentage points each in March and June, to a new target rate of 1.75% to 2.00%. Core PCE inflation rose to 2.0%, in line with the Federal Reserve's target. The US employment market also remained buoyant. The unemployment rate fell to 3.8% in May, the lowest level since the 1960s.

The tightness of credit spreads in early 2018 effectively meant corporate bonds were priced for perfection. Since then, in combination with reduced liquidity provided by central banks, any potentially adverse news flow has resulted in spread widening. In May and June, for example, Italian political uncertainties followed by global trade concerns exerted upward pressure on spreads. In fact, by the end of June investment grade spreads had widened to their highest level since late 2016. In the quarter as a whole, the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Corporate Index average spread moved 18 bps higher, to 1.25%. High yield spreads in the US also widened, albeit by a more modest 5 bps.

- US rates position was maintained at Neutral
- Overweight in credit strategy added some value

Early 2018 saw widespread of optimism in financial markets. Risk appetite was supported by the passing of tax reforms in the US in late 2017 and economic data that suggested inflationary forces were gaining momentum after years of disappointment. Together with rising oil prices and increased expectation of interest rate hike, led the UST 10-yr to rise above 3.10%, breaking out of long-term trading ranges and investors suggested we could finally be about to see a sustainable move in higher yields globally. However, the rise in yields since 2016 was interrupted in the June quarter. Treasury yields then reversed sharply and ultimately closing the first half of the year closer to 2.80%.

The increase in market volatility was arguably attributable to the removal of liquidity by central banks. In mid-February, equity markets was flipping into 'risk off' mode. VIX index spike to the highest level since mid-2015, turning investors cautious throughout most of March. Towards the end of the second quarter, LIBOR increased in the US, the 3-month TED spreads increased to their widest level since 2009 and remains at wider ranges until the end of June, causing concerns in credit market and bank funding. For now, it appears that the move was largely technically driven; the result of a combination of ongoing policy tightening (higher cash rates and the unwinding of QE measures), significant recent issuance of short-dated Treasuries, changes to the US corporation tax regime, the recent increase in longer-term Treasury yields and as investors rebalance their equity exposure following recent weakness. Investors have been able to shrug off negative news flow in recent years, safe in the knowledge that markets would be supported by global central banks' extremely accommodative policies. This sentiment is changing as policy settings are being reviewed, contributing to volatility in yields (and equity markets) as investors digest news flow.

Just as markets were calming in early June escalating trade concerns began to dominate sentiment, as the US and China announced further tariffs on goods imported from one another. While it was unclear what effect these moves might have on growth, some observers suggested lower trade volumes could shave 0.5% off potential global GDP growth in coming years. These developments overshadowed the release of economic data. It was noteworthy, however, that the Federal Reserve raised US interest rates twice by 0.25 percentage points each in March and June, to a new target rate of 1.75% to 2.00%. Core PCE inflation rose to 2.0%, in line with the Federal Reserve's target. The US employment market also remained buoyant. The unemployment rate fell to 3.8% in May, the lowest level since the 1960s.

- US rates position was maintained at Neutral
- Overweight credit strategy detracted some value

The MSCI Golden Dragon Index declined by 1.8% in US dollar terms over the period. Taiwan was the best performer, down just 0.7% over the period, followed by China, which declined by 1.7%. Hong Kong underperformed, falling by 2.5% over the period.

Key contributors to performance included CSPC Pharmaceutical, which rallied on better than expected earnings boosted by the inclusion of its flagship NBP product on China's National Reimbursement Drug List. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption.

On the negative side, AAC Technologies softened on concerns around weaker shipment expectations for the Apple iPhone in the second half of 2018 and Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business.

Significant new purchases over the period included Silergy Corp, the largest analogue integrated circuit (IC) designer in Asia. Although Silergy is still small, we believe that its better-performing products, competitive pricing and good sales support should help it gain share in a market that has historically been dominated by incumbents in the West. We also purchased Mediatek, which had showed signs of a turnaround. Although the recovery is unlikely to follow a straight line, the smartphone business and other new growth areas seem to be progressing well.

We divested Giant Manufacturing on concerns around the level of competition in the industry. Sales may have bottomed, but capital raising by tech owners like Alibaba means that competition is likely to remain fierce. We sold Hangzhou Robam Appliances due to margins concerns on its single-product strategy.

One of the key issues weighing on China at the moment is the potential trade war with the United States. However, the outlook for the China A-share market depends not only on the outcome of trade negotiations between the two countries, but also on the de-leveraging process in China.

First State Greater China Growth Fund

Trade issues would have a longer-term impact on China's emerging industries and put pressure on sustainable economic growth. To counter the negative impact, there would likely be further reforms and opening measures. Reforms would be beneficial for well-run industry leaders, on hopes of better management incentives for state-owned enterprises and further consolidation of domestic industries.

Meanwhile, China's de-leveraging efforts are likely to have more of a near-term negative impact to economic growth. Companies that rely heavily on bank financing would be most affected, although those with excessive share pledges by controlling shareholders (as a way to raise funds) would also be penalised.

The above suggests a selective investment approach is needed when picking stocks. Companies that are cognizant of the risks and their responsibilities to shareholders are likely to do better than others during volatile times.

The MSCI Singapore and Malaysia Index declined by 4.5% over the six months to the end of June.

Key contributors to performance included Nestle Malaysia, which continued to deliver steady business performance and earnings growth. Haw Par Corp rose after posting decent earnings results.

On the negative side, Jardine Cycle & Carriage had been de-rated due to a competitive pressures for the Group's auto businesses. However, with newer models on the way, we believe this should improve. Singapore Telecommunications declined on disappointing earnings, with its domestic consumer business particularly weak.

Significant new purchases over the period included Kasikornbank, which had fallen to attractive valuations. Kasikornbank had been de-rated due to high credit costs, weak loan growth and pressure on fee income. However, we are optimistic that the worst of it is over and the bank should benefit from a recovery in exports and the trickle-down effect of government infrastructure projects. We also purchased TOA Paint (Thailand), a high quality franchise in decorative paints with a leading market share in Thailand and a growing business in ASEAN. Thailand sales had been depressed due to the mourning period following the death of King Bhumibol Adulyadej, but now looks set to reaccelerate. Valuations were reasonable when compared to regional peers.

We divested Coca Cola Bottlers Japan, which controls around 90% of the volume of Coke in Japan. We decided to take profits as the share price had risen on anticipation of improved profitability from the recent merger between Coca Cola East and Coca Cola West. We also sold Glow Energy on concerns over the lack of growth.

We maintain our cautious approach due to structural weakness and inflationary pressures. On the whole, we remain focused on finding high-quality management teams and businesses that have, over time, delivered predictable and sustainable returns comfortably in excess of the cost of capital, despite the prevailing headwinds.

The MSCI AC Asia ex-Japan Index declined by 4.8% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Taiwan and China outperformed, while the Philippines and Indonesia were among the weakest. On a sector level, Health Care and Energy gained the most, while Consumer Discretionary and Telecom Services lagged.

Key contributors to performance included Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), which added to performance as it reported an uptick in revenue and margins. TCS's business model is evolving towards higher margin 'digital transformation' consultancy services, where it has secured a number of recent deals with large clients such as Transamerica, Marks and Spencer and Rolls Royce. CSL Limited saw accelerating demand for its core immunoglobulin products, which is increasingly used as a secondary treatment for haematological cancers.

On the negative side, Global Brands Group struggled to meet earnings expectations amid the ongoing disruption in the US retail sector. Retail bankruptcies led to the loss of several brand licences which impacted the group's revenue. Idea Cellular continued to fall on competitive pressures in the telecoms sector.

Over the six-month period, significant purchases included TOA Paint (Thailand), a high quality franchise in decorative paints with a leading market share in Thailand and a growing business in ASEAN. Thailand sales had been depressed due to the mourning period following the death of King Bhumibol Adulyadej, but now looks set to reaccelerate. Valuations were reasonable when compared to regional peers. We also purchased DBS Group after a good meeting with the CEO. Its market share is improving and cost-to-income is declining due to investments in technology – which suggests that the bank could earn higher returns-on-equity over this cycle.

We divested Lupin on concerns around the challenging environment in the US generics market and sold Global Brands Group as it has continued to disappoint on earnings and management execution.

First State Asia Opportunities Fund

At the mid-year mark, we remain cautious in our outlook for Asian equities. Rising US interest rates and the pressure on emerging market currencies have triggered interest rate hikes in a number of Asian markets, which could pose considerable risk for companies that have over-leveraged. Debt levels cannot continue to rise forever, but this will perhaps not become obvious until interest rates normalise. Asian companies' earnings growth estimates have begun to taper on fears of a deterioration in the global economy; the trade war between the US and China finally began, with import tariffs on US$50 billion worth of goods on both sides. Despite the gloomy forecasts, we believe there are still pockets of opportunity for the bottom-up investor. Our research is focused on identifying dominant franchises that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Many of our portfolio companies benefit from secular growth drivers which could prove to be less correlated to macro-economic cycles and relatively defensive in the event of a downturn.

The MSCI AC Asia Pacific ex-Japan Index declined by 4.2% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Australia and Taiwan outperformed, while the Philippines and Indonesia were among the weakest. On a sector level, Healthcare and Energy gained the most, while Consumer Discretionary and Telecom Services lagged.

Key contributors to performance included CSL Limited, which saw accelerating demand for its core immunoglobulin products, increasingly used as a secondary treatment for haematological cancers. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption.

On the negative side, Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business, while Ramsay Health Care slumped after it lowered its earnings guidance for 2018. Operating conditions are expected to remain challenging in both its home market of Australia as well as in the UK.

Significant new purchases over the period included Mphasis, which was purchased during a share placement by the majority shareholder. Mphasis had reported industry-leading revenue growth and improved profitability; depreciation of the Indian rupee should provide an additional tailwind. We also purchased Ambuja Cement, which had fallen and was trading near replacement cost. Ambuja and ACC had agreed to swap clinker and grinding services, which, along with other operational efficiencies, should help to control costs and improve profitability.

We divested SM Investments on valuation concerns and sold Brambles on a weak growth outlook.

Investment Manager's Report (Unaudited) (unaudited)

At the mid-year mark, we remain cautious in our outlook for Asian equities. Rising US interest rates and the pressure on emerging market currencies have triggered interest rate hikes in a number of Asian markets, which could pose considerable risk for companies that have over-leveraged. Debt levels cannot continue to rise forever, but this will perhaps not become obvious until interest rates normalise. Asian companies' earnings growth estimates have begun to taper on fears of a deterioration in the global economy; the trade war between the US and China finally began, with import tariffs on US$50 billion worth of goods on both sides. Despite the gloomy forecasts, we believe there are still pockets of opportunity for the bottom-up investor. Our research is focused on identifying dominant franchises that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Many of our portfolio companies benefit from secular growth drivers which could prove to be less correlated to macro-economic cycles and relatively defensive in the event of a downturn.

The year started with an upbeat tone amid synchronized global growth but that dissipated very quickly. ECB starting to taper their QE, Fed continuing with rate hike along with rising inflationary pressure in the US weighed on markets. The bearish sentiments were exacerbated in Q2 by the trade war between US and China as market fears its impact on global economies should it intensify. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (JACI) lost 2.55% in the six months period ending 30th June 2018. Average spread of the JACI widened 45 bps to 267 bps while 10 year US treasuries rose 45bps to 2.86% during the period.

As at the end of first half of 2018, supply is 25% lower than that for the same period in 2017. Concerns over US Fed rate hike's trajectory, US trade policies, China liquidity and credit concerns and emerging markets outflows all contributed to the weaker issuance pattern. Issuers have also shifted their focus to shorter tenors or looked at alternative funding sources such as the loan market, which has been less impacted by the volatility in the credit market.

While we expect fears around trade war to eventually dissipate as Trump shift his focus to the mid-term elections, development around the credit conditions in onshore China should be closely watched as further meltdown will effectively erase any hope of a rebound in Asian Credit in the second half of the year. That said, we are not feeling too nervous about the current situation in China. After all, the deleveraging process is voluntary and self-imposed, which means the government will have the ability to slow down or even reverse some of the deleveraging should conditions become too acute.

As at the end of the 1st half, JACI spread has widened around 45 bps to 267, bringing it very close to its 5 year average. Adding in the upward move in US treasury yield, Asian IG credits' all in yield to maturity is now just 20 bps shy of the peak we reached during the 2013 taper tantrums, whereas fundamentals are much stronger now than before. This makes Asian credit highly attractive especially for the long term, all in yield investors such as the pension funds and insurance companies. Anecdotally, real money investors are holding high single digit cash levels, which will inevitably help to limit the downside from an already oversold position.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

The year started with an upbeat tone amid synchronized global growth but that dissipated very quickly. ECB starting to taper their QE, Fed continuing with rate hike along with rising inflationary pressure in the US weighed on markets. The bearish sentiments were exacerbated in Q2 by the trade war between US and China as market fears its impact on global economies should it intensify. The JP Morgan Asia Credit Investment Grade Index (JACI IG) lost 1.93% in the six months period ending 30th June 2018. Average spread of the JACI IG widened 31 bps to 190 bps while 10 year US treasuries rose 45bps to 2.86% during the period.

As at the end of first half of 2018, supply is 25% lower than that for the same period in 2017. Concerns over US Fed rate hike's trajectory, US trade policies, China liquidity and credit concerns and emerging markets outflows all contributed to the weaker issuance pattern. Issuers have also shifted their focus to shorter tenors or looked at alternative funding sources such as the loan market, which has been less impacted by the volatility in the credit market.

While we expect fears around trade war to eventually dissipate as Trump shift his focus to the mid-term elections, development around the credit conditions in onshore China should be closely watched as further meltdown will effectively erase any hope of a rebound in Asian Credit in the second half of the year. That said, we are not feeling too nervous about the current situation in China. After all, the deleveraging process is voluntary and self-imposed, which means the government will have the ability to slow down or even reverse some of the deleveraging should conditions become too acute.

As at the end of the 1st half, JACI IG spread has widened around 42bps to 190, bringing it very close to its 5 year average. Adding in the upward move in US treasury yield, Asian IG credits' all in yield to maturity is now just 16 bps shy of the peak we reached during the 2013 taper tantrums, whereas fundamentals are much stronger now than before. This makes Asian credit highly attractive especially for the long term, all in yield investors such as the pension funds and insurance companies. Anecdotally, real money investors are holding high single digit cash levels, which will inevitably help to limit the downside from an already oversold position.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Emerging markets declined over the six months to 30 June 2018. Colombia and Peru were the strongest markets over the period, while the Philippines and Turkey were the weakest. At a sector level, Energy and Health Care outperformed, while Real Estate and Telecom Services lagged.

The fund outperformed its benchmark index over the period.

Tata Consultancy Services and Infosys both benefitted from strong results and weakness of the rupee, while Uni-President Enterprises gained as it continued to show improvements in its China business.

On the negative side, Tiger Brands fell as it received results from a regulatory report which confirmed the presence of listeria in some of its facilities. The company has shut certain facilities and re-called products. Idea Cellular declined on concerns about competition and poor profitability, and Tata Power Company was weak due to negative tariff regulation.

Over the six-month period significant purchases included Ultrapar, a quality, reasonably valued Brazilian company, and Aspen Pharmicare, backing management to turn around this underperforming pharmaceutical company. We also bought VTech, a cash-generative franchise with a strong balance sheet, which has evolved over the years from manufacturing PCs to electronic learning toys.

We sold Bank Pekao due to a change in ownership with UniCredit's stake being sold to a state-owned insurer. We also sold Mahindra & Mahindra on valuation concerns especially given the cyclical nature of earnings and Coca-Cola HBC on valuation concerns.

In terms of valuation, much of GEM is less 'frothy' than a year ago. Regardless of whether the current fashion for complex corporate structures, domineering chairmen and acquisitions continues, as bottom-up stock pickers, we believe that valuations are beginning to look a little more attractive.

Our portfolio holdings are not dictated by a benchmark index, meaning we will continue to invest only in companies we consider to be of high enough quality. Some companies will continue to be uninvestible for us at any price, precisely because we focus on capital preservation and the potential downside to every investment.

Commodities were broadly lower during the six months to 30 June 2018. Industrial metals mostly fell, with zinc (-10.9%), copper (-10.0%), aluminium (-2.6%) and lead (-2.5%) all finishing in negative territory. Precious metals were also lower, as palladium (-10.8%), platinum (-8.8%), silver (-5.0%) and gold (-4.2%) all fell. Iron ore lost -14.6% and coking coal fell -5.7%. Thermal coal (+9.5%) and oil (+22.6%) bucked the broader trend on robust demand and tight supply.

The Fund underperformed its benchmark during the six month period. The top contributors to relative performance were Suncor Energy (overweight), Grupo Mexico (not held), Freeport McMoRan (not held), Cameco Corporation (overweight) and Ero Copper (overweight).

The top detractors to relative performance were Trevali Mining (overweight), TMAC Resources (overweight), Pretium Resources (overweight), HudBay Minerals (overweight) and Detour Gold (overweight).

Among the largest additions were Petra Diamonds, Pretium Resources and Arc Resources. Among the largest reductions were Beadell Resources, Trevali Mining and Western Areas. A new position was established in Technip FMC. Positions exited included Metro Mining, Sundance Energy and Highland Copper.

We remain constructive on the outlook for the mining sector. Positive global economic indicators suggest that the synchronous recovery in both developed and developing economies will continue in 2018. This should be supportive for both commodity prices and resources equities. Moreover the reporting season for the miners has highlighted a general short fall on most commodities, a reluctance to increase capex and a continued focus on costs and cash returns. More broadly the share prices of miners continue to discount around a 20% fall in EBITDA suggesting that the market does not anticipate that commodity prices can hold up despite the relatively tight supply/demand backdrop.

Thematics to watch in 2018 are likely to include ongoing supply constraint from miners and Chinese processing companies, a pick-up in merger and acquisition activity, inflation, and cash returns to shareholders. Efforts to reduce overcapacity in steel production on environmental grounds have boosted the profitability of steel mills, providing the impetus for stronger steel production and iron ore consumption in the short term. Over the longer term we also see potential for reduced demand for poor quality coking coal and lower grade iron ore owing to policies encouraging cleaner and more efficient steel production.

The FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Index (USD) rose 0.9% in 1H18, marginally outperforming the broader equity market.

Global REITs struggled over the first few months of 2018 in reaction to rising interest rates and trade tensions before returning to relatively strong returns as fears around rates were moderated, economic growth continued to accelerate, and M&A activity was strong across several markets.

The largest positive contributors to performance were holdings in Japanese developer Mitsui Fudosan and UK retail landlord Hammerson. Japanese developers such as Mitsui continue to perform well, with the company reporting strong FY results and plans to carry out significant buybacks. Hammerson rose strongly following a bid for the company from Klepierre which was rejected by the board, and rose strongly again after abandoning its planned merger with Intu.

The largest detractors from the Fund's performance were positions in US data centre company Equinix and Hong Kong developer Hang Lung Properties. Equinix failed to dispel concerns on the impact of the Verizon portfolio integration on US revenue growth. Hang Lung struggled on negative news from the US/China trade conflict, even though the negative implication for the stock is not significant.

The Fund established a position in US industrial REIT Prologis, which has a coastal market-focused portfolio among the highest quality of its listed industrial peer group and an in-process development pipeline of $3b. A position was also initiated in Equity Residential, the largest US apartment REIT. Equity Residential has a portfolio focused on six gateway markets which we expect to show improvement, and trades at an above average discount to NAV.

The Fund reduced its holdings in Simon Property Group after a better than expected holiday season. A position in Vornado Realty was also sold despite Vornado's attractive valuation, as the overall New York City office outlook is challenging with flat net effective rents and high tenant improvement costs.

First State Global Property Securities Fund

US REITs have experienced significant volatility this year as earnings growth has decelerated to more normalised levels. Current sector exposures include high quality data centres, lodging REITs, industrial REITs, West Coast office REITs, and single and multi-family housing REITs.

In Europe and the UK, we continue to maintain a cautious stance with limited exposure, mainly in student accommodation in the UK, offices in Madrid and Paris, and residential apartments in Berlin and Finland.

Within Asia, the strategy is to have a balanced portfolio with exposure to both quality defensive names and stocks with strong growth potential in the region.

The FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Asia Index (USD) increased 0.3% in 1H18, outperforming broader Asian equities.

The Hong Kong and China market was largely dominated by the US/China trade conflict, despite improving retail figures and strong property fundamentals overall. Singapore was similarly impacted by trade conflicts escalating, US rate hikes, and the associated USD strength. The Japanese market was one of the strongest globally, supported by higher inflationary pressure and strong office markets, particularly in Tokyo. REITs in Australia were also relatively strong.

Mitsui Fudosan was the biggest contributor to performance over the period. Japanese developers such as Mitsui continue to perform well, with the company reporting strong FY results and plans to carry out significant buybacks. Another contributor was Activia Properties, which outperformed its peers given continued strengthening of the Japanese office market in key cities.

The biggest detractor from performance was Mirvac. Mirvac tightened its FY18 earnings guidance owing to continued delivery of residential division earnings. Notwithstanding, market sentiment toward companies with residential exposure has softened. Sun Hung Kai Properties also underperformed despite a solid FY19 earnings outlook. Macro headwinds, volatility of Hong Kong HIBOR rates, and the US/China trade conflict have caused concern.

A position was established in New World Development. New World's earnings quality is set to improve with the completion of a large mix-used project in Tsim Sha Sui, and pre-leasing progress for the development is better than expected. The Fund also initiated a position in City Developments. City Developments is the best exposure to Singapore condo development, and we acquired a position on weakness in the stock.

Japan retail fund Hulic REIT was sold after strong relative performance. We used the proceeds used to invest in other J-REITs with better risk/return attributes. Japan Retail Fund Investment was also sold, following its disappointing results for the six months to February 2018.

In Japan, we remain comfortable with high exposure to developers given their material upside to NAV. We continue to hold a number of higher yielding J-REITs offering above market earnings growth.

First State Asian Property Securities Fund

Recent price falls are making Singapore-based companies more compelling and we are considering a number of developers with limited China exposure.

We hold a positive view on the Hong Kong and China retail sectors on resilient domestic spending and continuing tourism growth. The outlook for Hong Kong developers is solid, however interest rate risk has weighed on sentiment.

Operating conditions for retail A-REITs remain challenging. A number of retail A-REITs are focused on divesting low growth assets and re-weighting revenue toward food and service based tenants.

The MSCI China index decreased by 1.8% in US dollar terms over the 6 months to 30 June 2018, with weak performance due to the escalating trade conflict with the US. Despite ongoing negotiations, the two countries have yet to agree to a trade deal. The Chinese renminbi weakened against the US dollar, but stabilised in early July as People's Bank of China (PBoC) Governor Yi Gang reaffirmed that the Chinese currency would remain "stable at a reasonable and balanced level" and would continue to follow a managed floating exchange rate system. On the economic front, industrial activity was weaker than expected in May, with infrastructure fixed asset investment growth slowing to 8.5% year-on-year and the manufacturing PMI easing 0.4 points to 51.5. Retail sales growth also softened to 8.5% year-on-year in May, the lowest level since July 2003. Financial deleveraging continued apace, with incremental Total Social Financing in May at half the level of April, mainly due to lower non-bank financing.

The Fund decreased over the 6-month period. Adding to performance, Wanhua Chemical rose on the news of its shareholding restructure. In early June, Wanhua Chemical announced that it would acquire its controlling shareholder, Wanhua Huagong, through an issuance of shares to the latter's five shareholders. After the acquisition, Wanhua Chemical's MDI capacity is expected to become the largest globally, overtaking current market leader, BASF. Li Ning increased on evidence of sustained operational improvements. Since founder and chairman Li Ning returned in 2015 to turn around the company, the brand has been revitalised; inventory has fallen by 15% over the last three years, while sales have increased by a third.

On the negative side, Great Wall Motor declined, as greater competition and a lacklustre market continued to exert pressure on its operating profits, while Delta Electronics fell after it lowered its 2018 earnings forecast due to raw material shortages and adverse currency.

The Fund initiated a position in Sinotrans Limited, a state-owned freight forwarder with an increasing contribution from logistics-related businesses. Its valuation looked attractive, given the improving business mix. We are optimistic of further change and improvements here, given the introduction of China Merchants Group as its ultimate parent. We also bought back China South Publishing, a leading educational publications company in Hunan province, on attractive valuations. The company recently introduced a management incentive scheme which should help to align management and shareholders' interests.

The Fund divested Qingdao Haier to reduce overall exposure to the home appliances sector.

First State China Focus Fund

One of the key issues weighing on China at the moment is the potential trade war with the United States. However, the outlook for the China A-share market depends not only on the outcome of trade negotiations between the two countries, but also on the de-leveraging process in China.

Trade issues would have a longer-term impact on China's emerging industries and put pressure on sustainable economic growth. To counter the negative impact, there would likely be further reforms and opening measures. Reforms would be beneficial for well-run industry leaders, on hopes of better management incentives for state-owned enterprises and further consolidation of domestic industries.

Meanwhile, China's de-leveraging efforts are likely to have more of a near-term negative impact to economic growth. Companies that rely heavily on bank financing would be most affected, although those with excessive share pledges by controlling shareholders (as a way to raise funds) would also be penalised.

The above suggests a selective investment approach is needed when picking stocks. Companies that are cognizant of the risks and their responsibilities to shareholders are likely to do better than others during volatile times.

#Benchmark were changed from UBS Global Infrastructure & Utilities to FTSE Global Core Infrastructure 50-50 Index from 1 April 2015. Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Global listed infrastructure gave up ground early in 2018 on concerns for rising interest rates, before recovering as concerns for global trade and rising geopolitical uncertainty rekindled investor appetite for defensive, income generative assets.

The largest positive contributor to Fund performance was Evergy, which was buoyed by the announcement of a large share buyback program over the next two years, equivalent to 22% of shares on issue. NextEra Energy outperformed on investor enthusiasm for its robust balance sheet and renewables-driven earnings growth. UGI Corp gained on growing market recognition of its earnings growth potential and strong financial metrics. Normalised (cooler) weather conditions proved supportive of its utility and midstream business segments.

The largest detractor from Fund performance was CCR, which was affected by media reports that the firm had been cited in a plea bargain from an anti-corruption probe regarding overpriced sponsorship contracts. Dominion Energy was affected by regulatory changes, and a sharp rise in US Treasury yields during the first quarter. Jiangsu Expressway fell as indications of slower traffic growth and a broader EM sell-off overshadowed the stock's attractive valuation multiples and cash generative characteristics.

A position was initiated in Ferrovial after earnings disappointments in its construction and services businesses overshadowed its exceptional infrastructure assets and growth optionality. The Fund also bought shares in Severn Trent, a stable, defensive business which pays a ~4% dividend yield and earns regulated returns linked to UK RPI.

First State Global Listed Infrastructure Fund

Central Japan Railway was sold after a period of material outperformance moved it to a lower position within the investment process. The Fund also sold its holding in Abertis as the takeover proposal from Atlantia / ACS drew close to a positive conclusion.

The Fund invests in a range of global listed infrastructure assets including toll roads, airports, ports, railroads, utilities, pipelines and mobile towers. These sectors share common characteristics, like barriers to entry and pricing power that can provide investors with inflation-protected income and strong capital growth over the medium term.

Tollroads remain the Fund's largest sector overweight, owing to the appeal of their stable cash flows, high operating margins and effective barriers to entry. On a more cautious note, the Fund remains underweight airports and some US utilities. Despite strong growth prospects and high quality assets, these sectors continue to trade at valuations that we find difficult to justify based on company fundamentals.

The MSCI AC Asia Pacific ex-Japan Index declined by 4.2% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Australia and Taiwan outperformed, while the Philippines and Indonesia were among the weakest. On a sector level, Healthcare and Energy gained the most, while Consumer Discretionary and Telecom Services lagged.

Key contributors to performance included CSL Limited, which saw accelerating demand for its core immunoglobulin products, increasingly used as a secondary treatment for haematological cancers. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption.

On the negative side, Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business, while Ramsay Health Care slumped after it lowered its earnings guidance for 2018. Operating conditions are expected to remain challenging in both its home market of Australia as well as in the UK.

Significant new purchases over the period included Mphasis, which was purchased during a share placement by the majority shareholder. Mphasis had reported industry-leading revenue growth and improved profitability; depreciation of the Indian rupee should provide an additional tailwind. We also purchased Start Today, the largest e-commerce platform in Japan for luxury and on-trend fashion. We believe the long-term potential growth is significant, as online penetration for Japanese fashion retailers is still relatively low (around 4% vs. 20% in the UK, for example). After the recent correction, valuations were below the historical average which we believed to be reasonable.

We divested SM Investments on valuation concerns and sold Brambles on a weak growth outlook.

At the mid-year mark, we remain cautious in our outlook for Asian equities. Rising US interest rates and the pressure on emerging market currencies have triggered interest rate hikes in a number of Asian markets, which could pose considerable risk for companies that have over-leveraged. Debt levels cannot continue to rise forever, but this will perhaps not become obvious until interest rates normalise. Asian companies' earnings growth estimates have begun to taper on fears of a deterioration in the global economy; the trade war between the US and China finally began, with import tariffs on US$50 billion worth of goods on both sides. Despite the gloomy forecasts, we believe there are still pockets of opportunity for the bottom-up investor. Our research is focused on identifying dominant franchises that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Many of our portfolio companies benefit from secular growth drivers which could prove to be less correlated to macro-economic cycles and relatively defensive in the event of a downturn.

Global equity markets were flat over the first half of 2018 in US dollar terms. Colombia and Finland rose the most, while Turkey and the Philippines were weakest. At a sector level, Information Technology and Energy were strongest, while Telecom Services and Financials underperformed.

The fund underperformed its benchmark index over the period. PZ Cussons fell sharply when it announced guidance for 2018 which was below analyst expectations. Henkel declined mostly due to the impact of negative currency moves on results and as supply chain challenges continued to impact the company's North American operations. L Brands was impacted by lower sales from its Victoria's Secret brand.

Tata Consultancy Services rose on good results, rupee weakness and positive management changes. Kirby Corporation benefited from the improving shale oil market and Unicharm gained as it announced margin improvement and strong sales growth in Asia.

Major purchases during the period included Roche, a reasonably valued oncology leader, and DiaSorin, a high quality business focused on diagnostic kits. We also bought Kikkoman, an international family-owned soy sauce and seasoning company, and Agnico-Eagle, a well-governed mining company.

We sold GlaxoSmithKline and Kirby Corporation on valuation grounds. We also sold Newcrest Mining as there were better alternatives available.

Our portfolio holdings are not dictated by a benchmark index, allowing us to invest only in companies we consider to be of high enough quality. Consequently, there are many companies which we would never invest in at any price. We remain focused on capital preservation and always consider the potential downside, as well as the upside, of any investment.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark
Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Widening credit spreads restricted performance in the first half of 2018 – the Fund rose in value by just 0.67% (gross of fees) over the period.

The tightness of credit spreads in early 2018 effectively meant corporate bonds were priced for perfection. Since then, in combination with reduced liquidity provided by central banks, any potentially adverse news flow has resulted in spread widening. In fact by the end of June, Investment Grade spreads had widened to their highest level since late 2016. This has meant returns from credit markets have been lacklustre over the past few months, with the additional yield carry from corporate bonds only marginally offsetting the effect of spread widening.

Sentiment towards Asian issuers, in particular, was adversely affected by trade concerns. Investors fretted that the implementation of tariffs on US goods imported from China could dampen export volumes and result in lower corporate profitability in the region. For now, credit investors are trying to establish the potential impact of the tariffs on individual issuers globally. German car maker Daimler, for example, has suggested that lower Chinese sales of Mercedes vehicles manufactured in the US will result in lower profitability.

Following extreme concern in May, the political situation in Italy had calmed down by the end of June. Italy still faces the prospect of another election in the months ahead, however, and the terms of the UK's proposed withdrawal from the European Union are still to be agreed. Sentiment towards European names therefore remains fragile. In June, the ECB announced it will end its Quantitative Easing program by the end of 2018. This announcement came at a time when the European economy is showing signs of weakness, prompting some observers to suggest the move was based on political motivations rather than economic indicators.

If credit spreads remain static, or even widen a little further, overall returns from corporate bonds should remain relatively appealing for those with a long-term investment horizon. 10-year US Treasury yields are expected to break back through 3% and move steadily higher over time as the Federal Funds rate is increased. Further interest rate rises are anticipated in the US before the end of 2019, adding to the six rate hikes we have already seen since December 2016. Adding a credit premium of ~120 bps or ~320 bps for Investment Grade and High Yield, respectively should provide investors with a reasonable return profile.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

The MSCI AC Asia Pacific ex-Japan Index declined by 4.2% in US dollar terms in the six months to the end of June 2018. Australia and Taiwan outperformed, while the Philippines and Indonesia were among the weakest. On a sector level, Healthcare and Energy gained the most, while Consumer Discretionary and Telecom Services lagged.

Key contributors to performance included CSL Limited, which saw accelerating demand for its core immunoglobulin products, increasingly used as a secondary treatment for haematological cancers. ENN Energy outperformed, driven by growth expectations for the year ahead. China's environmental policies and "coal-to-gas" projects for local governments should continue to fuel higher levels of gas consumption.

On the negative side, Minth Group weakened on softer than expected results and fears of US protectionism impacting its North American business, while Ramsay Health Care slumped after it lowered its earnings guidance for 2018. Operating conditions are expected to remain challenging in both its home market of Australia as well as in the UK.

Significant new purchases over the period included Trust Tech, a Japanese dispatch worker company focused on engineering and manufacturing. It has a strong track record and has been growing faster than the market. We expect robust demand to continue on the back of labour shortages in Japan. We also purchased Mphasis during a share placement by the majority shareholder. Mphasis had reported industry-leading revenue growth and improved profitability; depreciation of the Indian rupee should provide an additional tailwind.

We divested HDFC Standard Life and SM Investments on expensive valuations.

At the mid-year mark, we remain cautious in our outlook for Asian equities. Rising US interest rates and the pressure on emerging market currencies have triggered interest rate hikes in a number of Asian markets, which could pose considerable risk for companies that have over-leveraged. Debt levels cannot continue to rise forever, but this will perhaps not become obvious until interest rates normalise. Asian companies' earnings growth estimates have begun to taper on fears of a deterioration in the global economy; the trade war between the US and China finally began, with import tariffs on US$50 billion worth of goods on both sides. Despite the gloomy forecasts, we believe there are still pockets of opportunity for the bottom-up investor. Our research is focused on identifying dominant franchises that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Many of our portfolio companies benefit from secular growth drivers which could prove to be less correlated to macro-economic cycles and relatively defensive in the event of a downturn.

The MSCI Japan Index declined by 2% in US dollar terms over the six months to 30 June 2018, amid heightened global volatility and fears of an escalating trade war – a slowdown in global trade volumes would have a magnified effect on Japanese companies' profits. Domestic earnings results remain solid, however, and with unemployment remaining at decade-lows, Japanese wages are finally headed upwards.

Meanwhile, Bank of Japan (BOJ) Governor Haruhiko Kuroda began a second term at the central bank and reiterated that the BOJ would continue with its quantitative easing policies until consumer prices reached its targeted 2%. Though recent inflation figures point to a modest uptick, it remains far from the BOJ's target.

In June, the widely-watched Tankan survey of manufacturing businesses showed that confidence levels worsened over the quarter compared to March; however this was offset somewhat by a lower than expected yen exchange rate with the US dollar (which would boost exporters' earnings).

Significant contributors to performance included Start Today, which rose after the launch of its Zozosuit – a sensor-packed garment designed to capture precise body measurements. The data from Zozosuit can be used to order its private label custom-fit range of products, which is priced to compete with Uniqlo and Gap. The suit helps to combat one of the key drawbacks of buying clothes online: ensuring that purchases fit well. MonotaRO also added to performance, due to strong earnings growth and little competition in the industry. MonotaRO has been successful in winning new business due to investments in advertising and marketing. On the negative side, Harmonic Drive Systems and Shin-Etsu Chemical softened on concerns over slowing orders, particularly from semiconductor makers.

First State Japan Equity Fund

Significant purchases over the period included Trust Tech, a staffing company which provides dispatched and agency workers specialising in the engineering and manufacturing fields. It has a good track record, with sales and operating profit growing at more than 30% CAGR over the past three years. We believe Trust Tech should continue to see robust demand due to ongoing labour shortages in Japan. Meanwhile, employment reforms and new laws on dispatched workers make it increasingly challenging for smaller companies to keep up with regulatory requirements. We also purchased Fullcast Holdings, the largest placement company in Japan for short-term workers (less than 30 days' placement). Fullcast has around 30% market share, based on 700,000 workers employed on a short-term basis.

Similar to Trust Tech, we believe Fullcast should benefit from the changing landscape of Japan's employment and working patterns.

We divested Softbank on concerns around its investment strategy and sold N Field as it reached our fair market valuation.

At the mid-year mark, the fundamental outlook for global trade, combined with a steady yen exchange rate, suggest that Japanese earnings should continue to deliver robust growth in the second half of the year – despite concerns of a trade war between the US and China (which would have wider repercussions for the global economy). The March-end reporting season has seen Japanese companies delivering results above both guidance and consensus, albeit with the understanding that Japanese management almost always under-promise with their overly conservative forecasts. Meanwhile, with more than half of non-financial companies listed on the Topix with a net cash position, share buybacks are likely on the increase, which could lift earnings further. Irrespective of the macro conditions, as bottom-up investors, we continue to focus our research on identifying companies that can deliver sustainable and predictable returns over the long term. Our main portfolio strategy is to identify a select number of companies that we believe can be much bigger in five to ten years' time, ignoring the short-term noise and sector/style rotations. In today's world, we believe it pays to take a step back and assess the longer-term trends and broader industry drivers.

Global listed infrastructure gave up ground early in 2018 on concerns about rising interest rates, before recovering as global trade headwinds and rising geopolitical uncertainty rekindled investor appetite for defensive, income generative assets.

The largest positive contributor to Fund performance was NextEra Energy, which outperformed on investor enthusiasm for its robust balance sheet and renewables-driven earnings growth. UGI Corp gained on growing market recognition of its earnings growth potential and strong balance sheet. Cooler weather conditions also proved supportive of its utility and midstream business segments. CSX Corp announced healthy earnings numbers, underpinned by strong operational performance and recent tax cuts.

The largest detractor from Fund performance was CCR, which fell following media reports that the firm had been cited in a plea bargain from an anti-corruption probe regarding overpriced sponsorship contracts. Dominion Energy was affected by regulatory changes, and a sharp rise in US Treasury yields during the first quarter. Jiangsu Expressway underperformed as indications of slower traffic growth and a broader EM sell-off overshadowed the stock's attractive valuation multiples and cash generative characteristics.

A position was initiated in Ferrovial, after earnings disappointments in its construction and services businesses overshadowed its exceptional infrastructure assets and growth optionality. The Fund also bought shares in Severn Trent, a stable, defensive business which pays a ~4% dividend yield and earns regulated returns linked to UK RPI.

Japan Airport Terminal was sold after a period of material outperformance moved it to a lower position within the investment process. The Fund also sold its holding in Abertis as the takeover proposal from Atlantia / ACS drew close to a positive conclusion.

The Fund invests in a range of sustainable listed infrastructure assets including toll roads, airports, ports, railroads (both passenger and freight), utilities, pipelines and mobile towers. These sectors share common characteristics, like barriers to entry and pricing power, which can provide investors with inflation-protected income and strong capital growth over the medium-term.

A focus on sustainability can help deliver positive risk adjusted returns. It can create opportunities for positive performance; generating ideas as well as lowering the overall risk profile of a portfolio through a better understanding of ESG related risks.

First State Global Umbrella Fund PLC

Notes forming part of the financial statements for the period ended 30 June 2018

1. Organisation

First State Global Umbrella Fund plc (the “Company”) was incorporated on 18 June 1998 and registered as an open-ended umbrella investment company with variable capital in Ireland under the Companies Act 2014. The authorised share capital of the Company is five hundred billion shares of no par value initially designated as unclassified shares.

2. Principal accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee of the IASB. Specifically these financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS (International Accounting Standard) 34: Interim Financial Reporting.

The comparative figures included for the Statement of Financial Position (“SFP”) relate to the previous year ended 31 December 2017, while the comparative figures included for the Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders and Statement of Cashflows relate to the six month period ended 30 June 2017.

The accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are consistent with those used in the Company’s most recent annual financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2017.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. If in the future such estimates and assumptions, which are based on management’s best judgement at the date of the financial statements deviate from the actual outcome, the original estimates and assumptions will be modified as appropriate in the financial year which the circumstances change.

The financial statements have also been prepared in accordance with the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2015 (the “Central Bank UCITS Regulations”) and the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission (“SFC”) Code on Unit Trust and Mutual Funds (the “Code”).

Changes in accounting policy

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

IFRS 9 'Financial Instrument, (effective date 1 January 2018) IFRS 9, specifies how an entity should classify and measure financial assets and liabilities, including some hybrid contracts. The standard improves and simplifies the approach for classification and measurement of financial assets compared with the requirements of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. Most of the requirements in IAS 39 for classification and measurement of financial liabilities were carried forward unchanged. The standard applies a consistent approach to classifying financial assets and replaces the numerous categories of financial assets in IAS 39, each of which had its own classification criteria. The standard does not have a significant impact on the Company's financial position or performance, as the Company continues to classify its financial assets and financial liabilities (both long and short) as being at fair value through profit or loss.

IAS 28 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures

IAS 28 has been amended to clarify that the election to measure at fair value through profit or loss an investment in an associate or a joint venture that is held by an entity that is a venture capital organisation, or other qualifying entity, is available for each investment in an associate or joint venture on an investment-by-investment basis, upon initial recognition.

This annual improvement is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. The measurement and classification requirements do not have a significant impact on the financial statements.

IFRIC 22 Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

On 8 December 2016, the IFRS Interpretations Committee of the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) issued IFRS Interpretation, IFRIC 22, Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration which clarifies the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income, when an entity has received or paid advance consideration in a foreign currency.

As per IFRIC 22, the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) is the date on which an entity initially recognizes the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration. In case there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the entity should determine a date of the transaction for each payment or receipt of advance consideration.

This interpretation is applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018. The Company is currently assessing the impact of IFRIC 22 and plans to adopt the new interpretation in the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2018.

3. Taxation

Under current law and practice the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a "chargeable event". A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders, any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of shares and any deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of the holding of shares for an eight year period or more. No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

(a) a shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, are held by the Company or the Company has been authorised by the Irish Revenue to make gross payments in the absence of appropriate declarations and such authorisation has not been withdrawn; and

(b) certain exempted Irish tax resident shareholders who have provided the Company with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Company may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its shareholders.

5. Soft commission

The Company previously made use of commission sharing arrangements for certain funds with brokerage firms that executed or that provided research and advisory services to the Company. This may have included situations where the dealing commission on a particular trade or a series of trades was shared between one or more providers of execution and/or research services. In this case a portion of the commission paid by the Company to the executing broker was used to purchase third party research or execution services.

The Company made use of commission sharing arrangements during the period ended 30 June 2017. The brokerage firm provided execution services in this period and a portion of commission paid was used to purchase third party research services. From January 2018, as a part of new MiFid regulation, all research and advisory services are now paid by the Managers/Sub-Managers and hence there is no longer any use of soft commissions as part of trading.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

In determining an instrument's placement within the fair value hierarchy, the Directors separate the Company's investment portfolio into two categories: investments and derivative instruments. Each of these categories can further be divided between financial assets or financial liabilities.

Investments

Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets and are therefore classified within Level 1, include active listed equities and bonds, certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, and certain money market securities. The Directors do not adjust the quoted price for such instruments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and a sale could reasonably impact the quoted price.

Investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, most government agency securities, certain mortgage products, investment-grade corporate bonds, certain bank loans and bridge loans and less liquid listed equities, bonds state, municipal and provincial obligations and investments in other funds. As Level 2 investments include positions that are not traded in active markets and/or are subject to transfer restrictions, valuations may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, which are generally based on available market information.

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently or not at all. Level 3 instruments include certain investments valued using an estimate of fair value. When observable prices are not available for these securities, the Directors use one or more valuation techniques (e.g., the market approach or the income approach) for which sufficient and reliable data is available. Within Level 3, the use of the market approach generally consists of using comparable market transactions, while the use of the income approach generally consists of the net present value of estimated future cash flows, adjusted as appropriate for liquidity, credit, market and/or other risk factors. The Level 3 investments are priced by the relevant competent party and the method is approved by the Directors.

Level 3 valuations are reviewed on a monthly basis by the FVPC. The FVPC considers the appropriateness of the valuation model inputs, as well as the valuation result using various valuation methods and techniques generally recognised as standard within the industry.

As of 30 June 2018, the Company holds no Level 3 securities. At 31 December 2017, the Company held a Level 3 equity investment in First State China Focus Fund. Wanhua Chemical Group was suspended on 5 December 2017 due to restructuring activities in the overall Wanhua Group. On 6 December 2017, the FVPC decided to classify the investment as Level 3. However, it resumed trading on 5 June 2018 and was reclassified to Level 1 by 30 June 2018.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

Derivative contracts

Derivative instruments can be exchange-traded or privately negotiated over-the-counter ("OTC"). Exchange-traded derivatives, such as warrants and future contracts, and OTC derivatives, such as forward currency contracts, credit default swaps and interest rate swaps, are typically classified within Level 1 or Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy depending on whether or not they are deemed to be actively traded.

The Company considers the transfers between different levels to occur when there is a change in significant observable and unobservable inputs for a particular investment. There were no transfers between levels of investments during the period ended 30 June 2018 and 31 December 2017.

The Company's assets and liabilities (by class) not measured at fair value but for which fair value is disclosed have the following levels: Level 1 - cash and cash equivalents, margin accounts, bank overdrafts, Level 2 - remaining classes of financial assets and liabilities on the Statement of Financial Position. These assets and liabilities are carried at amortised cost; their carrying values are a reasonable approximation of fair value.

7. Derivative contracts

Future contracts

Future contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a designated financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange-traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the future contract values are settled daily. Future contracts have little credit risk because the counterparties are futures exchanges. Future contracts result in exposure to market risk based on changes in market prices relative to contracted amounts. Market risks arise due to the possible movement in foreign currency exchange rates, indices, and securities' values underlying these instruments. In addition, because of the low margin deposits normally required in relation to notional contract sizes, a high degree of leverage may be typical of a futures account.

As a result, a relatively small price movement in an underlying of a futures contract may result in substantial losses to the Company.

Futures trading may also be illiquid. Certain futures exchanges do not permit trading in particular futures contracts at prices that represent a fluctuation in price during a single day's trading beyond certain set limits. If prices fluctuate during a single day's trading beyond those limits, the Company could be prevented from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and thus could be subject to substantial losses.

Notional amounts are the underlying reference amounts to stock exchange indices, equities and foreign currencies upon which the fair value of the futures traded by the Company are based. While notional amounts do not represent the current fair value and are not necessarily indicative of the future cash flows of the Company's futures, the underlying price changes in relation to the variables specified by the notional amounts affect the fair value of these derivative financial instruments. The fair value of future contracts entered into by the Company as at 30 June 2018 is disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparty for all futures contracts is JP Morgan Securities LLC.

7. Derivative contracts (continued)

Forward contracts

Forward contracts are contractual agreements to buy or sell a specified financial instrument at a specific price and date in the future. Forwards are customised contracts transacted in the OTC market. The Funds may enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to manage the currency risk arising from the Funds' investment or anticipated investment in investments denominated in foreign currencies. Forward contracts may be used for hedging and currency management of both local and foreign currencies. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparties for all the forward contracts are Commonwealth Bank of Australia, BNP Paribas, Westpac Banking Corporation, Nationwide Building Society, ANZ Banking Group Limited, HSBC Bank plc, Citi Bank and UBS AG Singapore Branch.

Interest rate swaps

Swaps are contractual agreements between two parties to exchange streams of payments over time based on specified notional amounts. Interest rate swaps relate to contracts taken out by the Company with major brokers in which the Company either receives or pays a floating rate of interest in return for paying or receiving a fixed rate of interest. The payment flows are usually netted against each other, with the difference being paid by one party to the other. The Company may obtain interest rate swaps for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and to hedge against interest rate risk. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparties for the interest rate swaps contracts are Commonwealth Bank of Australia, ANZ Banking Group Limited, National Australia Bank Limited, Westpac Banking Corporation and Morgan Stanley.

Warrants

Warrants are recorded as an asset or liability at their fair value on the SFP. Fair value as determined by the Administrator is the quoted market price as provided by electronic feed from one or more reputable price vendors. The change in fair value, if any, is recorded as an unrealised gain or loss in the SCI. Realised gains or losses on warrants are shown in the SCI. On the expiry of a warrant the amount previously recognised in the SFP is recognised in the SCI as a realised gain or loss.

11. Significant events during the financial year

Matheson was appointed as a legal adviser in Ireland on 16 March 2018.

The First State Global Agribusiness Fund was revoked by the Central Bank of Ireland on 22 March 2018.

The registered office of the Company changed to 70 Sir John Rogerson's Quay, Dublin 2, Ireland on 6 April 2018.

Matsack Trust Limited was appointed as Company Secretary on 6 April 2018.

First State Investments has made the decision to exit its Global Resources capability as it believes that this asset class is becoming ever more specialised with some investors increasingly using other means to gain investment exposure to these sectors. As of the date of these accounts, the First State Global Resources Fund continues to be actively managed by the existing portfolio management team. The Company will provide formal notification to all investors in the fund should this change.

12. Subsequent events

Effective 1 April 2018, India introduced a new capital tax regime for long term gains (gains of securities held for greater than 12 months). Previously, long term gains were exempt from tax in India and accordingly the Company did not accrue for Indian capital gains tax. The introduction of the regime required the Company to assess an appropriate accrual methodology for the new tax in order to arrive at a reliable estimate of tax payable. On 3 August 2018, a tax accrual was put in place across the following funds to reflect changes in the treatment of capital gains in India.

Sub-Funds	Tax Payable US$

Appendix – Unaudited

Cybersecurity Risk

Cybersecurity breaches may occur allowing an unauthorized party to gain access to assets of the Funds, Shareholder data, or proprietary information, or may cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the Distributor, the Administrator or the Depositary to suffer data corruption or lose operational functionality.

The Funds may be affected by intentional cybersecurity breaches which include unauthorized access to systems, networks, or devices (such as through “hacking” activity); infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code; and attacks that shut down, disable, slow, or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes, or website access or functionality. In addition, unintentional incidents can occur, such as the inadvertent release of confidential information (possibly resulting in the violation of applicable privacy laws). A cybersecurity breach could result in the loss or theft of Shareholder data or funds, the inability to access electronic systems, loss or theft of proprietary information or corporate data, physical damage to a computer or network system, or costs associated with system repairs. Such incidents could cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the Distributor, the Administrator, the Depositary, or other service providers to incur regulatory penalties, reputational damage, additional compliance costs, or financial loss. Consequently, Shareholders may lose some or all of their invested capital. In addition, such incidents could affect issuers in which a Fund invests, and thereby cause a Fund’s investments to lose value, as a result of which investors, including the relevant Fund and its Shareholders, could potentially lose all or a portion of their investment with that issuer.
